Hang it all Eames Collection

Eames House, c. 1950

LTR Occasional Table

Charles and Ray Eames designed the LTR (Low Table Rod Base, 1950) as a small, variable side table and had several different versions of them in the Eames House. Today many of these tables are still there, arranged individually and in groups, displaying objects from the Eames Collection, or serving as side tables next to armchairs and sofas. Charles & Ray Eames feature among the most important figures of twentieth century design. Their work is multi-faceted: they developed furniture, produced films and photographs, organised exhibitions and designed and built their own house as a pioneering endeavour.

Vitra has produced and marketed the furniture designs of Charles & Ray Eames since 1957. First producing under license, Vitra obtained exclusive rights to all Eames products for Europe and the Middle East in 1984. Consequently, we are the sole legitimate manufacturer of Eames designs in this part of the world. The brand gives you the security of owning an original product by Charles & Ray Eames.

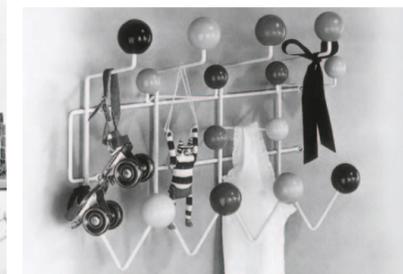

Elliptical Table Rod Base / ETR

Charles & Ray Eames designed this table in 1951. With its elegant elliptical shape, the ETR is a striking presence in a living room, waiting area or lounge. The chrome-plated wire legs of the ETR, which recall the base of the Occasional Table, are a further example of the Eameses' interest in steel rod and wire, which they bent and welded into a variety of fine, yet sturdy constructions.

Hang it all

Hang it all (1953) is an extraordinary clothes rack. Instead of plain hooks, its colourful wooden balls encourage children to hang up all of their things – jackets, toys, roller skates, dolls or backpacks – just as the name suggests. Not only for children, Hang it all is a cheerful and functional alternative to the conventional coat rack in any area. The object is sold in an authentic reproduction of the original packaging designed by Ray Eames.
